Have you heard that DADS are supposed to be perfect when their children are at their worst?

Maybe you ask yourself how do I help my children survive and thrive?

Sometimes parenting feels like its a tough job and other times it feels like its rewarding and full of great surprises!

It takes creativity and consistency, blended with a lot of patience and love.

It's not a mystery!

Let's find the answers together and join with other dads to explore the daily challenges of being a dad.

“It's not easy being a Dad at times and knowing other Dads are dealing with similar issues helps me understand and appreciate the multi facets of being a father and dealing with the day to day challenges including appropriate discipline and boundaries”
